

Berlage Institute, Research Lab, Rotterdam
Architect: J.J.P. Oud
Interior design: Team Berlage

Berlage Institute
Botersloot 25
Rotterdam
Netherlands

Completed in: 2006

Furniture: invitation, open mind, silent rush, high end, my way, turtle club

silent rush chairs were used to match the red privacy screens. open mind chairs were used at benches without privacy screens. Photos top: Berlage, all others Sedus

Since 2000, the offices of the well-known architecture research institute, the Berlage Institute, have been in the historical savings bank building. Students from all over the world work at bench workstations in the research lab. An optimum exchange of ideas within the research team is enabled by the communication-promoting invitation system. Communication zones with turtle club and smaller conference areas, also created with the invitation bench, support the central brightly lit hall in its function as a melting pot for ideas.

Berlage Institute, Rotterdam
Architect: J.J.P. Oud
Interior design: Team Berlage

Berlage Institute
Botersloot 25
Rotterdam
Netherlands

Completed in: 2006

Furniture: invitation, open mind, silent rush, high end, my way, turtle club

Conference solution with the high end table and my way swivel armchairs. Photos: Sedus

